...initially the bird had problems with circulation to his toes, he seemed to get better, but then it got much worse really fast out in the aviary.

I ended up taking off his back toe but it became infected.

Ugh. Sorry, Bart.

PHS has another one right now that looks even worse, we'll see what we can do.

Fishing line!!

October 8, 2018 Dr. Rebecca Duerr, IBR

We have gotten like maybe a dozen really severe entangled pelis recently.

Some were so awful we just euthanized on arrival.

I had to euth 3 in one day last week, and those are the ones we receive!

This is fixable

Seabird Protection Group

Stop with the pilots, they are not killing birds

1. Understand what is happening, who is doing this
2. Develop materials to teach them how
 - Not to hook birds
 - What to do when birds are hooked
 - Disperse this material
3. Get a law passed to force them to do the right thing
